WHAT: “Nature’s Best Photography,” a temporary exhibition of award-winning photographs

WHEN: Nov. 12 – May 2, 2010

WHERE: Smithsonian’s National Museum of Natural History
10th Street and Constitution Avenue N.W.

“Nature’s Best” presents the winning images from the Windland Smith Rice International Award competition. The competition, hosted by Nature’s Best magazine, not only celebrates the photographic talent of amateur and professional nature artists worldwide, but also attests the beauty and magnificence of the artists’ subjects.

From more than 20,000 entries, 48 images were chosen as award winners and will be in a temporary exhibition at the National Museum of Natural History from Nov. 12 through May 2, 2010. Winners were selected in 19 different categories and include stunning stills that truly capture the wild splendor of the natural world.
